$100 FOR TEN CENTS.
Only a few more subscribers are required to insure the speedy issue of the Great Illustrated Paper—

THE WEEKLY PRESS, which in size and appearance will resemble HARPER'S WEEKLY, but in value will far transcend that publication.

THE PRESS will be an embodiment of the spirit of the age. Each department will sparkle with the genius of the most eminent writers of the day.

An original SERIAL STORY of the most brilliant character will be commenced in the first number.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS will be entirely original and of the most attractive style and nature.

The great expense and labor involved in this enterprise render it necessary that we should start with an ENORMOUS CIRCULATION.

In order to do this, we shall do as follows: Ten thousand dollars in sums of $100 will be distributed through the first edition. To every given number of papers 100 dollars will be allotted. Every copy of the PRESS will be enclosed in a stout wrapper, so that the papers containing the greenbacks will not be known by their external appearance, and all purchases will have an equal chance for the money and gifts.

Besides the 100 dollar BILLS, orders will be enclosed in certain copies of the edition for the following GIFTS:

5 Grand Pianos (Steinway's), Value $500

For the Cynthiana News.
SHALL I SAY FAREWELL!
I cannot, No! I cannot part from thee—
The beautiful, but vanished past, whose hours
Wove in my heart such strange, sweet melody,
Is sighing to me now. Its faded flowers
Are lying on my bosom, and I feel
A sadness which my heart can never reveal.

I cannot, No! I cannot part from thee!
For I have worshipped thee, dear one, too long.
Thou hast become too dearly loved to be Dissevered from me now, when all the strong
And passionate pulses of my wayward heart
Have made thee of my soul a cherished part.

I cannot, No! I cannot part from thee!
Thou hast become my soul's brightynosse;
And as the wanderer on the darksome sea
Amid the tempest's gloom, turns to the pure
Unfading glories of the pole-star's light,
So do I look to thee when all is night.

The Southern State Conventions.
The Times offers a sagacious hint which prudence compels it to veil in a haze of words. We will attempt to translate it into greater perspicuity. Unless we give it more significance than our contemporary intended, it is advice to the State conventions sitting and soon to sit in the South to frame constitutions which conservative citizens can accept, and thus extricate the Republican army from impending ruin.

Congress would thereby be spared an inglorious retreat, and the party nevertheless be placed upon a more moderate and reasonable platform. Many pertinent and forcible arguments could be urged in support of a course; but we suppose the strongest in the estimation of the Times, (although its article is not explicit), to be, that the Republican platform might in this manner be so changed that General Grant could be run in it with some hopes of success.

We take credit for having contributed to this dexterous fetch by pointing out the ease with which negro governments in the South can be up-set immediately after the 4th of March 1864. The Times and the Tribune unite in denouncing the method as "revolutionary," but we have a better opinion of their perspicuity than to suppose they really think it so. They were willing to let their readers see how impossible it is for the reconstruction scheme to have any permanent success on its contemplated basis; and one of them by giving the substance of our suggestion, and the other its words, contrived to put an idea into the heads of their readers which they durst not advance except by indirection. To decry it as "revolutionary" is no refutation, and we suppose none was intended. The Republican organs were willing to suggest what they did not deem it prudent to endorse; probably in the hope of saving their party through such moderation in the Southern conventions as is not to be expected from Congress.

Although the charge may not have been serious, we will nevertheless try to explode it by arguments which Republicans at least should accept as conclusive. We assumed that immediately on the election of a Democratic President and House of Representatives, the Southern whites would reorganize their State governments, oust the negroes, hold new elections, and send members to Congress. The point at issue is, whether the recognition of such governments by the admission of the new members would be "revolutionary." It is a point easily decided. The Republican party has educated the people to believe that Congress has the most absolute discretion in deciding what is, and what is not a valid State government. The Thirty-ninth Congress exercised such discretion in upsetting the governments of ten States; and the imputation to which we are replying assumes that the Fortieth Congress will exercise an equally broad discretion by recognizing State governments built upon a negro basis. No body can dispute that the Forty-first Congress will possess all the powers which belonged to its predecessors; and among others that of deciding what is the legitimate local government in any State. It hence follows that the next Congress will be just as free to recognize new white, as this Congress is to recognize new negro governments in the Southern States.

The Times and Tribune must admit this, or see that their charge of "revolutionary" proceedings can be retorted.

The Republican party claims authority to intervene under the clause guaranteeing republican government to the States. But here again the Forty-first Congress will possess all the powers of the Thirty-ninth. The Thirty-ninth pretended that no government was republican which did not permit negroes to vote; a pretence which condemns the governments of the very States which formed the Constitution. But the Forty-first Congress may hold, upon sounder reasons, that no government is republican which is thrust upon the people against their will by military force. If the authority to decide such questions cannot be denied to the last and the present Congress, so neither can it be denied to the next, since every Congress possesses precisely the same powers. Every House of Representatives is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members, and it is a flagrant inconsistency for Republican journals to stigmatize its future exercise as "revolutionary" after what they have been defending for the last two years.

The remaining part of the plan for disposing of the bastard negro governments is defensible on perfect solid grounds. By the Constitution, a majority of each House is a quorum; a majority of the Senate therefore possesses authority to organize and act as that body. Our suggestion was, that when the Northern Conservative Senators and the Southern Senators are a majority, the Senate will have passed out of the control of the Republicans. The idea that the Republican minority will set themselves up for the Senate is preposterous. What would they gain by it? Being a minority, they could merely adjourn from day to day, could transact no business. When the House shall have admitted the Southern Representatives and the Republicans have dwindled to a minority in the Senate, there is no danger that this helpless minority will stand out and attempt to resist the course of events. If the Democrats elect the next President and a majority of the next House, the bastard negro governments may be quietly displaced without a resort to any revolutionary proceedings, or to any measures for which the Republican party has not set precedents.

The late elections having demonstrated that the country will not sustain universal negro suffrage, the Republicans cannot expect to carry the Presidential election on that issue. But retreat will be hardly less damaging to them than persistence. Congress, after its manifold commitments and its stubborn quarrel with the President, cannot retract without exposing itself to scorn. The Times deserves the credit of desecrating the only loophole of retreat which is rough the action of the Southern conventions. If they should discard universal negro suffrage, and present constitutions which the majority of the white inhabitants of the South would be willing to accept, Congress might sanction their action without a humiliating retreat, and nobody would ever think of disturbing the new governments. But plausible and promising as this dodge may seem on its face, it is beset with insurmountable difficulties.

The fact that the Times dares advocate it only by covert insinuation, which half conceals while half disclosing the plan, betokens a timorous sense of obstacles. The chief barrier to its adoption is the necessity of abandoning negro suffrage to make it effectual; for unless this be done the Southern whites will not acquiesce, and the new governments will be toppled over as soon as a new Congress is elected. But if negro suffrage be given up, every one of the States will give large anti-Republican majorities; and that party does not dare, on the eve of a Presidential election, to allow so many weights to be thrown into the opposite scale. We have no doubt that this desperate and unscrupulous party will prefer to organize negro governments for the nonce, and secure their electoral votes, even though they may not stand for a day after the Presidential election. The Times, however, directs public curiosity to a subject of considerable interest in speculating on the effect of the late elections on the State conventions in the South.

A few nights ago the store house of John Moore, half-way between Winchester and Lexington, says the Clark County Democrat, of last Thursday, was entered by four men, and finding Mr. M. and another gentleman in bed, the robbers presented revolvers to their heads, informing them resistance would be instant death. Being powerless, they were compelled to submit. The thieves demanded their money, watches, and other valuables. After taking what goods they could carry, they left. The country is full of prowling scoundrels, and no house should be left unguarded.

The Louisville Journal speaking of Gen. Grant for the radical candidate for President, observes:

For our own part, we confess that we do not fear General Grant as the radical candidate for the Presidency. In that capacity we do not believe that he would be formidable. Such is the faith that is in us. And we can give several reasons for it. At present let two or three suffice.

In the first place, Gen. Grant's availability, if he has any, consists in his odor of conservatism, which his acceptance of the radical nomination would destroy, and in his military fame, which as an element of availability is pretty thoroughly exhausted. Military fame is losing its virtue with the people. Ten months hence, it is as likely to be an element of weakness as of strength. In our opinion, it is not now an element of strength.

On this point we quite agree with Senator Wade, a lively account of whose views we publish elsewhere in the Journal of to-day. In the second place, General Grant, as we think, cannot bring out the whole strength of the radical party. His antecedents are such that he cannot attract the extremists without repelling the moderates. From the one or the other, he is bound to receive, if not positive opposition, very lukewarm support. In the third place, his nomination would be regarded as a triumph of the moderates over the extremists, which in all probability would occasion the extremists to demand, and the moderates to yield, not only the platform and the Vice-presidency, but measures of legislation and modes of administration that could not fail to increase the odium of the party. His nomination, in other words, would prove the means of betraying the moderates into the hands of the extremists, leaving the cloven foot of the party more fully exposed than if Wade or Chase were the nominee, for in that case the moderates would be on their guard, and the concessions would come from the other side. This is our opinion. Other reasons we might give, but at present, as we have said, let these suffice.

ABSCONDED.—We are informed that Captain Reed, negro breeder and Police Judge of Versailles, has absconded, leaving several matters unsettled behind him. He was to have been married in a few days to a very attractive young lady, but it came out that he had a wife and two children already in Illinois, and he fled to escape the indignation of the citizens. He borrowed an overcoat which he neglected to return, and also forgot to pay his board bill, amounting to some $400. A few weeks ago he joined church under the persuasive eloquence of Elder Richard Gano—the more readily, as is supposed, to carry out his matrimonial scheme. He has left a vacancy on judicial bench of our neighboring village and an empty bureau, both of which are to be filled. —Lexington Gazette, 13th.

The well-known Sanders House, the mail-stage office, at Nicholasville, was burned on Wednesday morning of last week. The fire was not discovered until 3 o'clock, and the flames had then made such headway that they could not possibly be suppressed. The building was entirely destroyed, together with the greater portion of the furniture, clothing of the occupants, &c. Some six or seven hundred dollars belonging to the stage company of Robertson, Thomas & Co., was lost. Insurance on the entire loss is but slight.

Republicans! God's finger has written plainly on the eventual history of our last ten years His approval of your cause, and his resolve that it shall triumph.—N. Y. Tribune.

Not if the voice of the people is the voice of God. It is not likely that He would say one thing and write another. We suspect that the Editor of the Tribune is not as familiar with the divine handwriting as he thinks he is.—Louisville Journal.

"I say, boy, is there anything to shoot about here?" inquired a sportsman of a boy he met.

"Well," replied the boy, "nothing just about here, but our schoolmaster is just over the hill there—outting birch rods; you might walk up and pop him over."

If you want the best boot in the United States, call at J. H. Shawhan's.

On Friday night last an out-house on the plantation of J. T. Noble, near Lair's Station, was destroyed by fire.

The nicest varieties of hats and caps, and the best boots and shoes are kept J. H. Shawhan.

On Wednesday night of last week the residence of Duncan Taylor, living six miles north of town, was entirely destroyed by fire.

Go to J. H. Shawhan's if you want any clothing, where you will find the largest and best assortment of clothing ever brought to Cynthiana.

On Tuesday last Mr. Geo. Hull was arrested for purchasing goods under false pretenses, from the Fennel Brothers. He is in jail.

We have been informed that Col. Garnett has recovered his stolen horses. It is said they were stolen by some wild women.

You will find the largest and best assortment of cloths, cassimers and vestings, at J. H. Shawhan's.

The Base Ball Club, the Star, of Cynthiana, and the "Warrior" of Paris, will play a match game on next Saturday the 23, in this city, provided the weather is agreeable. Everybody is invited. The game will come off at 1 o'clock.

We are pleased to notice that J. Stoddard Johnson, Esq., has taken the editorial control of the Frankfort Yeoman. He is a man of ability and energy, and the Yeoman, in his hands, will continue to be, as it always has been, a readable sheet, and a sound Democratic organ.

On Tuesday evening last the little son of Wm. Wages, sr., fell out of a water wagon, near the Christian Church, in this city, and a wheel of the vehicle passed over his head. Several persons who beheld the accident cried out the boy was killed, but the little fellow jumped up, and laughing, said that he was not hurt. It is said, however, that he was considerably injured. Wagoners should not permit boys to ride on their wagons.

A. E. Hume. This gentleman is proprietor of "the Peoples' Boot and Shoe Store," on Madison street, a few doors north of the Planters' Hotel, Covington, Ky. He keeps for sale a splendid stock of boots, shoes, hats and caps, and is prepared to furnish custom made work. He took the premium at our last Fair on the Best Boots. Our fellow-citizen, Joel Rankin, is connected with the establishment, and waits upon his old friends in that grand old-fashioned Kentucky style of urbanity, for which our people are so noted. Call and see them when you visit Covington.

JEWELRY—Mr. Chas. Asmann, of Madison street, Covington, Ky., has the largest and fullest assortment of jewelry of all kinds and styles in that or any other city. His diamonds are of the "first water," and he warrants every article which he offers for sale to be pure silver or gold as the case may be. He has a fine assortment of watches for ladies and gentlemen, and he can please all in price or style. He sells his goods at a less price than they can be had at Cincinnati, as he is an importer.

Doty's Washing Machine. The attention of our lady readers, as well as gentlemen husbands and wives—is respectfully directed to the advertisement of Mrs. Mary A. Northcut, in another column. She is the Agent for Doty's Washing Machine, one of the best inventions of this century, and one that every wife should have, rich or poor. The washing of a large family can be done in two hours, and instead of making a drudge of your wife, with this machine, she will make it a bit of past-time or amusement. Those who desire to see this machine work will call at Mrs. Northcut's, on every Tuesday.

The Editor of the News. Times, made a flying visit to Cynthiana, a week ago, and when he arrived at his home gave his readers the following:

Cynthiana is a live town. It boasts of business houses that would do credit to a place of much larger size. Her people are enterprising, and are going ahead at a lively rate. New buildings are springing up on every side. Why? It is a railroad town, and her people are not afraid to invest a few thousand dollars in improvements, thereby enriching themselves and benefiting the community in which they live. There were croakers who said that a railroad would kill Cynthiana. It has killed it as it is killing Paris, Lexington and Nicholasville—just as it is killing every other town that has a railroad running into it—just as it would kill Georgetown, did our people get the foolish notion into their heads of connecting us with the outer world by iron rails.

The distillers of Harrison are doing a lively business, as the big wagons loaded with corn, to be turned into juice, which one so frequently passes on the roads, attest.

Mr. Otwell is building up a good business in the drug line. He deserves to succeed and will.

Wash. Juliet, is blooming like a rose. He is one of the best dry goods clerks in the State, and is exceedingly popular.

The Editor of the Georgetown Times will excuse us, if we tell him that Harrison is the best blue grass county in the world and that there is none better in Kentucky. We often move around in the blue grass country, but when we leave Harrison it is our opinion that there is none better for grass or grain under the sun.

A sweet potato—yes, a genuine yam, from Buena Vista precinct, in old Harrison, big enough to plug the muzzle of a 24-pounder, and have sufficient shavings from it to feed the cannoners—was presented us a few days ago by William Smith, Esq., of the above named precinct. It measures twenty-seven inches in circumference, and weighs eight pounds. It is a fine specimen of the sweet potato, and we would like to hear from it. After the incredulous get through looking at and handling it we expect to invite a precinct of people to "snack" with us.

At the sale of Jacob Heneker, sr., on Thursday last, he stock and crop sold at fair prices. Wheat sold at $2.60 per bushel; oats from 2 to 3 cents per dozen in shock; fat cattle—three and four year old steers, one hundred dollars per head, weighing about 1500 lbs.; work horses sold for from fifty to one hundred and fifty dollars and fifty cents; brood mares from seventy-five to one hundred and thirty dollars; stock sheep brought from two dollars and fifty cents to five dollars per head; yearling cattle from forty-five to fifty dollars per head; spring calves twenty-seven dollars; a thorough-bred cow sold for ninety dollars; 13 steers brought seventy-three dollars and twenty-five cents per head.

PERSONAL. Last week we were honored with a call from our good-looking young friends "Colonel" Horace Realy, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and Captain M. C. Dougherty, of Fayette county, Ky. Colonel Realy is now connected with the large boot and shoe house of Southwick & Wheelock, New York city. He is an energetic business man of urban disposition, and our merchants visiting New York city will find it to their interest to give him a call. Captain Dougherty is connected with the clothing house of Sonneborn & Co., Church street, New York, and worthy of the confidence of his friends in every respect.

"The Pen and Pencil" promises to take the front rank among the many literary works of the day; each succeeding number is fully equal to any previous issue. We are favorably impressed with it. It is cheap in price and excellent in contents. And the new and novel plan adopted by the publishers of making their customers mutual participants in a large percentage of the net profits, is very popular. By the plan 10c., may even secure Ten thousand or One, Twenty-two thousand seven hundred dollars. Subscription price One dollar for three months; Single numbers (13c. by mail). R. Dawley & Co., Publishers, New York.

Railroads.
We notice by our State exchanges that a party of men engaged in the Railroad business, will make a move on the Legislature for an appropriation. The railroad, that the move will be made for is not stated. That makes no difference, the Legislature will take no stock in Railroads, or other humbugs of that character. We are not certain but that we would prefer seeing the roads already built torn up and the grading prepared for turpikes. There are just as many roads as are needed.

MARRIAGES.

Special Notices.
The Truth About Dyspepsia.
Whoever says that dyspepsia is incurable, tells a—that is to say, makes an egregious mistake. More than ten thousand aggravated cases have been cured by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, while the number that have been prevented from coming to a head, by the same means, is incalculable. In this season of the year, when the appetite is sometimes too vigorous for the comfort and safety of the stomach, indigestion is most prevalent and most distressing. Is the appetite to be balked to accommodate the digestive organs? Not so; for then the frame would lack its due proportion of nutriment. The thing to be done is to strengthen the stomach, tone the liver, and put the bowels in perfect order. Nothing will do this so effectually, so rapidly, so quietly, so pleasantly, as Hostetter's Bitters. This potent preparation cleans and balances the system, and clothes it, as it were, with defensive armor. Chronic dyspepsia, liver complaint, and fever and ague are never known to attack those who are wise enough to invoke the aid of this great preventive. Oct3-2m

A CARD TO INVALIDS.
A Clergyman, while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of nervous weakness, early decay, diseases of the urinary and genital organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by baneful and vicious habits. Great numbers have been cured by this noble remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine, in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it, free of charge. Address, JOSEPH L. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City. May16-ly

The friends and patrons will please accept the sincere thanks of the proprietors of the Stone Front for their kind and liberal patronage with the full assurance to those who will favor us with a call, that price and quality will always be warranted as low as the lowest, and the best of attention given. No pains, time or cost has been spared in the selection of goods, and the stock is not surpassed by any.

District Court of the United States, District of Kentucky, in Bankruptcy.

In the matter of the application of Thomas R. Rorer, for a final discharge. Pursuant to an order of the Court to me directed notice is hereby given to all the creditors of Thomas R. Rorer, of Harrison county, Ky., to appear before me on the 6th day of December, 1867, at my office, No. 323 Scott St., Covington, Ky., to show cause, if any they have, why said Rorer should not be discharged from his debts; and further, that the second and third meetings of creditors of said bankrupt as provided for in the 27th and 28th sections of the Bankruptcy Act will be held at the same time and place. JOHN W. FINNELL, Register. Oct3-2m

Taken up as a Stray
By Alvah M. Garrison, living about 1 1/2 miles from Curry's Run Church, in Harrison county, Ky., on the 25th of October, 1867. One dark red rooster, with white back and motley face, with a crop and under-bit in the right ear and half crop off the left—about 3 years old. Which was appraised by Henry Ward and Chas. Wilson at twenty dollars. Witness my hand this 26th of October, 1867. Oct31 JOHN B. HAMILTON, J. P. H. C.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED
To solicit orders for a new illustrated Bible Dictionary, (complete in one volume.)
Edited by Dr. Wm. Smith, classical examiner of the University of London.
The Dictionary embodies the results of the most recent study, and investigation, of about 65 of the most eminent and advanced Biblical scholars now living. Clergymen of different denominations approve it, and regard it as the best work of its kind in the English language, and one which ought to be in the hands of every bible reader in the land.
In circulating this work, agents will find a pleasant and profitable employment. The numerous objections which are usually encountered in selling ordinary works will not exist with this. But on the contrary, encouragement and friendly aid will attend the agent, making his labor agreeable, useful and lucrative.
Ladies, Clergymen, school teachers, farmers, students and all others who possess energy, are wanted to assist in canvassing every town and county in the country, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. For particulars address,

LYON'S PERIODICAL

DROPS!

The Great Female Remedy for Irregularities!!!

I HAVE tested these Drops in my own practice, over ten years, and do not hesitate to say, that nothing has yet been developed by medical research, that acts so powerfully, positively and harmlessly, in cases of female irregularity, as does this medicine. In all recent cases it never fails, while thousands who have been long sufferers, are indebted to it for the boon of health to-day.

Although so powerful and positive, they are perfectly harmless, and may be used at all times, except when specially forbidden in the directions.

They have been extensively employed by eminent physicians in France and England, as well as in my own practice, over ten years, and I have yet to hear of the first instance of failure. I could give you testimonials of their efficacy from ladies all over the Northern and North Western States, were they not in their nature, private. Over 100,000 bottles have been sold the last year, and I hope and trust, as many sufferers have been benefited. I am well aware that a remedy so potent to remove all obstructions, may be used for a bad purpose, but trust that when one bottle is thus used, ten may fall into the hands of really needy sufferers.

To all who suffer from any irregularity: painful, difficult, excessive, offensive or obstructed Menstruation, Leucorrhoea, or the train of diseases that follow, I would say, try a bottle of Dr. Lyon's French Periodical Drops. Being a fluid preparation, their action is more direct and positive than any pills or powders. Explicit directions, bearing my facsimile, accompany each bottle.

They may be obtained of nearly every druggist in the country, or by enclosing the price to C. G. Clark & Co., New Haven, Ct. General agents for the United States and Canada.
